

St David's Wettenhall & St Oswald's Worleston January 2020

The Cross Country Parishes of
Acton, Church Minshull, Wettenhall & Worleston.

'I'll be 5 next year'... 'I'm going to college next year'....'We're getting married next year'...'He'll be 80 next year.' We could all add to the list of things which will be happening around us next year. To small children 'next year' could be any time from tomorrow onwards. To those with a sense of time it can indeed be tomorrow or many weeks or months away. However, none of us knows what 'next year' will bring.

As you read this, 'next year' has already turned from 2019 to 2020 as I'm having to write this in election week as the editor needs his copy as the votes are being counted. I'm wondering as I write, if indeed Brexit will be sorted next year, if we'll have a 'hung' parliament, or another referendum or a change of prime minister. In the weeks ahead we'll find out and perhaps feel that we can only be interested onlookers with little control over national events - apart from our vote perhaps.

Even for those who look forward to 2020 because of a new job, or a wedding in the family, or a new baby, or travel, or retirement, know that they cannot control events entirely and the final result may not be at all what they imagined. Sometimes that new job, or house or college, or trip abroad was beyond their wildest dreams - but perhaps not.

Christians believe that whatever happens, through all the events in their lives, God is in control. That gives us confidence this new year and all our 'next years' too. We can take comfort and find reassurance in the words of the poem by Minnie Louise Haskins written in 1908

I said to the man who stood at the Gate of the Year,
Give me a light that I may tread safely into the unknown.'

And he replied 'Go out into the darkness and put your hand into the hand of God.

That shall be to you better than light and safer than a known way.

I cannot add to that except to say 'Happy New Year'

Thank You

The beginning of the new year is a good time to thank everyone who has worked so hard during 2019 to support St. David's in so many unseen, different ways. We are very grateful to those who deliver the magazines month by month, those who provide refreshments at the end of services, those who welcome parishioners, those who put flowers on the altar and in the windows, and those who Hoover, dust & polish with increasing regularity!

We are always grateful for extra help, so if you think you could help in any way, please contact either of the churchwardens who will be very pleased to hear from you.

Look Out for Messy Church

Following discussion at the last PCC meeting it has been decided to have something different when there are five weekends in the month.

This only happens 3 or 4 times in the year and so we are going to try holding a Messy Church on the Saturday afternoon from 3.30pm to 5.30pm - including tea for the children. The first occasion will be Saturday 28th March. Look out for more details next month!

Coffee & Cake

The next meetings are on Thursday 2nd January and 6th February

Times are from 10 am-12 noon & everyone is very welcome for as little or as long as they wish.

Love in a box

A total of 14 boxes packed with goodies were dispatched in time for Christmas from St. David's to some of the children of Eastern Europe. St. Mary's Church, Nantwich acted as a collection point this year and the chancel filled with boxes was certainly an amazing sight, displaying the generosity of local people. A huge thank you to everyone who took part in this campaign organised by Teams4U.

Plants and Flowers in the Christian Faith

Plants are beautiful and fascinating and we use them for food, construction, shelter, and to create beautiful gardens and landscapes. Not surprisingly, plants and flowers have been adopted by religions for symbolic and sacred reasons, and this series of articles will outline those that are familiar and symbolic for the Christian faith.

Yew trees are characteristic of churchyards across the World, our own churches in the Cross Country parishes have them growing. Churchyard yews are amongst the most ancient trees in the UK, with Wilmington in East Sussex having a yew estimated to be about 1600 years old.

There are numerous theories regarding the reasons why yews were planted in churchyards, a practice common from pre Christian times. The yew was sacred to the Greek Goddess Hecate, a Goddess associated with death and witchcraft. In Europe the Druids planted stands of yew to create sacred sites. Such sites were frequently adopted by early Christians and the belief in the sacred nature of yews was perpetuated. A churchyard yew in Fontingall in Perthshire is estimated at between 2,000 and 3,000 years old, giving it a direct link to those times.

The newly cut wood of yews has red heartwood and white sapwood, colours believed to represent the body and blood of Christ, alongside the bread and wine of the Eucharist. The tree can also regrow from the base when the top growth has apparently died or been chopped down. This is believed to represent the Resurrection and new life in Christ.

However, there may have been rather more practical reasons for growing yews in churchyards. In 1307 Edward 1st ordered yews to be planted to protect churches from gale damage, something that may be useful again! It may be that yews were planted to thrive in graveyards because of the deceased occupants, and grew to provide wood for the longbows of archers in troubled times. From the 11th century the church had it's own military forces, famous for it's archers, a tradition continuing to Elizabethan times.

Whatever the true reasons for the yews we see in churchyards they are a symbol of enduring faith throughout the centuries past and into the future.

Christingle

On Advent Sunday the choir from Calveley Academy, accompanied by Mr Gibbons, joined us to sing 'It was on a Starry Night' and 'Away in a Manger'. They had obviously been busy rehearsing for weeks with Miss Lea. Ben Morris stood-in at the last minute, to read the beginning of St. John's Gospel. We are very grateful to the pupils and staff at Calveley for all the hard work they put into preparing for this service. Thanks also to John & Ann Hignett for the amazing tree & to Phillippa Moss for decorating it so beautifully. Also to Mary Drinkall for the oranges and to the Christingle makers. The collection of £127 has been forwarded to further the work of the Children's Society.

Darnhall Brownies

Calveley School

The children and staff at Calveley Academy have really been getting into the Christmas spirit! We had a very successful Christmas fair with lots of stalls, activities and even a visit from Father Christmas himself. Thank you to the Friends and Relatives of Calveley (FROCS) who organise the event every year and make it amazing.

This December we have also taken part in "St Luke's Rudolph Run". The children dressed up as reindeer and ran around our school grounds to raise money for charity. It was wonderful to see all children working together, with older children helping the younger ones.

Children from Calveley choir took part in the Christingle Service at St David's Church, Wettenhall. They performed Christmas songs to the congregation and all children were very sensible holding their candles! Our head boy, Ben, read a passage from the bible. Well done Ben for reading so clearly and confidently. A fantastic evening was had by all and we are so proud of our children and their community spirit.

Worleston School

Many thanks to Mrs Tomlinson for organising such a magical trip for the Owls and Deers to Delamere Forest to see Father Christmas. They went on a Gruffalo hunt, had a picnic, toasted marshmallows and drank hot chocolate round the fire. Father Christmas gave everyone their own little Christmas Tree to plant at home too. It was such a wonderful day.

Movement In Mind

for Carers

Time for yourself

A chance to pause and be present.

Space. to feel; to be; to move; to explore;
to be still

Carers often focus their attention and energy on the person they support, but it's vital that they take time to look after themselves too. These Movement Therapy sessions will allow carers to be more mindful of their own wellbeing and will give them space to pause and focus on themselves.

We will be starting an 8 week pilot course in February

Plough Sunday

On Sunday 2nd February a United Plough Service will be held at Reaseheath College at 11am

Condolences

We were sad to hear of the death of Robert Hollinshead in November.

Robert had been for many years the landlord of the Royal Oak in Worleston, until his retirement last year.

We send our sympathy and prayers to Rachel and her family.

Thanks

We would like to thank the many people who, in 2019, helped to keep St Oswald's alive and well. We know that many of you are anonymous but we hope that you read this acknowledgement of your hard work. Thank you to the cleaners, flower arrangers, magazine deliverers, and those who come and do extra for special occasions. Then there are others who put out the bins and sweep the paths and look after the notice board. Visitors to St Oswald's always remark on how well kept and well loved it looks, so many thanks to you all. We hope that you will continue in 2020!

Lighting

The spotlights in the church have recently been replaced by LED spotlights, as they had become brittle and unsafe and were expensive to run. Two additional spotlights have also been installed to highlight the stage area in the nave at the front of the chancel.

The cost of these new LED lights along with installation came to more than 4 thousand pounds. If anyone feels that they would like to contribute towards this expense, no matter how small, it would be gratefully received. Please contact the Rev Anne Lawson, the churchwardens or the treasurer at St Oswald's if you feel inclined to help.

St Oswald's School

CONGRATULATIONS!

Late in November St Oswald's School had its SIAMS Inspection- the Statutory Inspection of Anglican and Methodist Schools. This takes place every 5 years. The inspector had the task of asking the following 2 questions.

1. How effective is the school's distinctive Christian vision, established and promoted by leadership at all levels in enabling pupils and adults to flourish?

2. What is the impact of Collective Worship (assembly or prayers to older readers)?

The answer on both counts was Excellent.

We understand that only 5% of church schools receive that mark and so we are all very proud of the children, staff, parents, governors and friends who make the school a 'Caring Christian family where we grow together.'

We would particularly like to offer our thanks and congratulations to Mr Alex Goodwin, the Principal, and to Miss Alice Ramage, the lead teacher of religious education in school.

Their enthusiasm is infectious, so congratulations to everyone!

Worleston WI

At our 'Birthday Meeting' in September, Janet Bradshaw spoke on 'My Nine Lives at Tatton Park'. Janet was very amusing in her explanation of dress throughout the ages at Tatton Park. She brought with her a number of items of clothing in baskets and as she was talking explained whilst she dressed from each era, what was worn and how time had changed costumes. Janet had worked for many years as a guide at Tatton and told her audience about how they educated and amused school parties with dressing up and experiencing life in the Middle Ages and other eras.

In October, Rowena Lovatt, explained that on leaving school she had no idea about what she wanted to do, however her father had suggested she trained as a manager at the Lux Lux lingerie factory in Leek. So started her career, spending time in each of the factory departments, until finally she ended up designing lingerie and explain to staff how they should make up the garments.

Rowena's stories of life in the factory had her audience enthralled, as her explanations of her exploits were so amusing. She had travelled to Paris, and other European cities accompanied by other members of staff to look at designs, as well seeing what was on show at exhibitions.

Her travel to Paris was unusual and delayed for a number of days as the company owner told them they needed better weather. Whilst waiting they were entertained by his mother one evening showing off her numerous paintings. Rowena did not have much interest in art, at that time, but remembered that there were paintings by Renoir, Van Gogh and bronzes by Degas! Once the weather cleared, they drove to Biggin Hill to fly out in the company owners' small aircraft, piloted by him. The only way he could navigate to Paris was by Rowena's co-worker helping. She was sitting in the co-pilots seat, had to give the pilot direction instructions by following the railway line from the French coast to Paris. This explained why they had to wait two days as he needed clear weather for navigation. There were numerous other escapades that happened, too numerous to mention and Betty thanked Rowena for a thoroughly entertaining evening.
